

MISTRAL BAR

noun [s] mi-strahl / mee-sträl latin

Origin:

- Early 17th century: a strong cold dry wind that blows through the Rhône valley and Southern France to the Mediterranean coast, mainly in the winter
- Early 2013: Established as a restaurant in a coveted spot on Witherspoon St. Princeton New Jersey.

Our Story...

Offering a stunning mix of taste, style and atmosphere, Mistral is recognized for its James Beard-decorated chef, Scott Anderson.

Mistral emphasizes global flavors while using local produce from Great Meadow Farm in Lawrenceville, New Jersey creating a unique dining experience.

At Mistral, we specialize in inventive cuisine that's intended to be savored and shared amongst friends.

Our team's style of cooking simultaneously celebrates a dish's culinary roots while employing a diverse set of techniques and flavor profiles to create dishes that are both creative and classic.
